This program is designed for both physicians and their office staff. (Informational handouts will be distributed.) With medical liability claims and the concern for privacy of patient health information (HIPAA) at an all-time high, this seminar is a must.

What you can expect to learn from this program:

- > What is legally required to be in a medical record and what should be excluded?
- > What do evaluation and management guidelines require for the physician to receive payment?
- > How long must records be kept?
- > Who may see the patients' records?
- > What are the privacy rights of patients (and liabilities of doctors for errors)?
- > Should employees be asked to sign confidentiality agreements?
- > What are the federal "Red Flag" rules for record protection and the HIPAA rules for computer security?
- > What are the state regulations protecting social security numbers? Added Bonus....also to be discussed
- > How can you protect your practice from internal fraud?

✂ -----
Cheese board with vegetable crudités and fruit, soda, coffee, tea, and cookies will be served.
