

MEISELMAN, DENLEA, PACKMAN, CARTON & EBERZ P.C.

The lawyers at Meiselman, Denlea, Packman, Carton & Eberz bring integrity, professionalism and responsiveness to sophisticated litigation.

A WINNING STRATEGY

"Winning is the benchmark by which we gauge our success," says David Meiselman of Meiselman, Denlea, Packman, Carton & Eberz. Throughout the past 30 years, the firm has created a culture of success that attracts the most challenging cases and the brightest lawyers, which includes each of the named partners who have been designated to New York Super Lawyers[®]: David Meiselman, James Denlea, Myra Packman, Jeffrey Carton and James Eberz. Handling sophisticated litigation throughout the country, as well as complex business transactions, the firm understands that clients want value for their money and that legal issues must be integrated with a client's business strategy.

"Our ability to untangle complicated disputes and to communicate with judges, juries and our adversaries in a clear, decisive and straightforward manner is what differentiates us from other firms," says Carton. "Ultimately, we expect no less of ourselves than what our clients demand of themselves. Integrity, professionalism, responsiveness and winning are always our ultimate goals."

RESULTS-ORIENTED REPRESENTATION

Meiselman, Denlea, Packman, Carton & Eberz is a general practice firm with an emphasis on litigation and transactions. The litigation department handles business, finance, corporate and entertainment issues, catastrophic personal injury cases, class actions, consumer fraud, real estate and insurance matters and it practices in state and federal courts throughout the country. Non litigation transactional matters include a full range of corporate, business and health-care issues. "Our approach to practicing law is simple and straightforward. We are a results-oriented, outcome-minded team that gets the job done. No excuses, no compromises, no surprises," says Packman, a labor and employment and appellate practitioner.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXCELLENCE

The firm will go wherever the client requires, and has achieved multimillion-dollar awards for clients in New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, California and Florida. The firm has also attained some of the highest jury awards in the various New York counties where its litigators have tried cases to verdict, which include a $14 million verdict in Westchester County, a $6 million verdict in Orange County and a $4.5 million verdict in upstate Columbia County. "There is no substitute for excellence," Meiselman explains. "Quality of work and responsiveness to client needs at a reasonable cost assures us that our firm will always be sought out by those in the know. We are proud to be one of the premier litigation firms available for clients that are committed to winning."
